RAMP

Leave the wood plank for the beavers and don't even try muscling up your bike with a buddy. Instead, use something that was meant for the job to eliminate the hassle and prevent injury (to you and your ride). The AF-9012-HD ramp is 89-inches long and 11.25-inches wide, making it suitable for everything from a dirtbike to a Harley. It conveniently folds in half to save space, but doesn't sacrifice any strength in doing so. The ramp includes an adjustable strap to keep it in place, and sports a half-inch thick plate for support on the vehicle instead of the skinny fingers that many others use. With a 1500 pound distributed weight capacity the ramp will surely support even heavily modified bikes, and the arched design allows for maximum clearance as well.
